Scott Sheets - L.C.P.A.
Port Authority has completed plans to construct a helicopter landing area. The landing area, which is expected to be finished very soon, will be located near the approach end of runway 31.

Self serve maintenance is open. Call Page Field Aviation Center for details for using this facility. The shed at self maintenance is for waste oil and oil filters only.

Paving at self serve fuel is expected to be complete in 10 days.

The new compass rose will be located at the West Ramp, it has been surveyed by engineers, and will be painted by the 99s.

Jim Cawthard - L.C.P.A.

Reminds pilots that ground control from Page Tower does not control taxiway D in front of the Aviation Center. Pilots need to maintain a safe speed and be vigilant for aircraft, vehicles, and pedestrians.

A Safety meeting, titled “Runway & Airport Safety” will be held on Wednesday, February 22, 2006 at 7:00 pm at the RSW Training Center. Representatives from FMY and RSW Air Traffic Control will be speaking.

New self serve maintenance and fuel.

Dennis Howard - Cub Club

Cub Club will be hosting a program on Tuesday, March 14, 2006 at 7 pm at the RSW training center. Titled “Considerations for aging pilots” presented by Lee Wedlake from Civil Air Patrol. EAA Chapter 66, and the Sundowner members, as well as all pilots are invited to attend.

Cub Club will hold a Poker Run on Sunday, March 26, 2006. Read more >>

Flight instructor, Tom Pino has been appointed Safety Officer for the Cub Club. Read more >>

Ed Howell - Fire Chief, L.C.P.A.

Page Field tenants will be notified in advance of fire inspection for hangars.

Reminded tenants that L.C.P.A. fire departments are not asking for compliance with extraordinary rules. The NFPA fire codes, that L.C.P.A. uses, are minimum standards.

Fire inspectors will take a practical approach to noncompliance, and issuing citations for code violations.

Some common fire code violations such as, not grounding aircraft in hangars, extension cords for permanent power supply, gas cans, and excessive oil storage, will need to be corrected.

The L.C.P.A. fire departments are familiar with the ballistic parachute system used in Cirrus aircraft, and how to deal with them in an emergency.

Tom Teetor

The ADS-B information system for aircraft is bogged down in compatibility issues, which is slowing the implementation of this very useful system.

If anyone is interested in seeing this system in operation, contact Tom at 590-6016, to fly with him in his ADS-B equipped aircraft.
